The Sackler family independently through greed has created and help create an epidemic that our country has never seen before. Having them pay million dollar fines is equal to pennies in my pocket. You allow them to police their own drug cartels inside of our country. Sacrifice their dark souls in a public square in DC. Allow free parking with a circus atmosphere. Bring back public hangings NOW. Every member of the Sackler family should be hung one by one. And don't forget the infants !

I suspect more people would care if we had a way to actually punish these people, but they own everything that matters enough to the point to either controlling the courts or having a profound effect on the way the trial would go. We can't even do that, we can't hold any of these motherfuckers accountable.

Lifetime sentences for every person they've killed. In a real prison. But we won't do that.

Can't we, armed with the precedents of tobacco ruling, take the next step in corporate accountability? It seems like the public will has passed the threshold where enough lawmakers should be bold enough to move forward. I am all for free markets, but there appears to be an absolute A caused B ending in measurable public harm and in those cases we should without fail go for blood.

If anything the death penalty needs to be more widely enforced. On the Sackler family for instance.

Maybe that's just me. I just don't get why the German high command could be tried for "crimes against humanity" by a tribunal with no regard for facts in evidence yet a jewish family killed 230,000 of the people of the country that held that tribunal and got away with it. Do you?
